

THE HERALD.

JOHN P. BARRETT, EDITOR

WEDNESDAY, NOV. 5, 1884.

Louisville, Nov. 5.
Cleveland and Hendricks are elected certain New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Nevada, California, Wisconsin, Indiana, with the balance gone for them.

JNO. P. BARRETT.

GROVER CLEVELAND
OUR NEXT PRESIDENT.

THOS. A. HENDRICKS,
VICE PRESIDENT.

205
EVEN the Nigger couldn't hold our Cleveland boss.

Toot your horn. We got that, Eli.

Our Republican friends look tired.

As indicated in the dispatch at the head of this column, Cleveland and Hendricks are elected by a majority of the electoral vote. After a reign of nearly a century of control of the nation and oppression by the Republican party, the people have shaken off the shackles that bound them and redeemed the country. Democracy has triumphed. It is impossible for us to give anything like a definite result at this writing, but every dispatch points to the election of Cleveland and Hendricks.

Mr. R. P. Howe, our efficient Post-Master, made a speech upon the political issues of the day to a large audience of ladies and gentlemen, at Morgantown last Saturday. Mr. Howe is a representative Republican and his speech usually comes up to the standard of prominent Republican orators, but in this instance, we learn that he beat himself and surpassed his usual efforts and fully satisfied those of his political faith.

THE HERALD was held back this week so as to be able to give our readers the result of the election.

The Lexington Transcript has arranged for the publication of the Western Association Press dispatches. This is in response to the demand of the people of that section.

JACOB JOHNSON, for murder, was tried at Bowling Green, last week, on a charge of venue from the Logan Circuit Court and sentenced to life.

The Plaintiff has appealed Gresham to succeed Judge Drumm, and appointed ex-Secretary McCullough to succeed Mr. Gresham as Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. John L. McFarland has withdrawn from the editorial staff of the Ohioan and Inquirer. Mr. McFarland has been on the editorial corps of the Inquirer since its creation.

The Ohioan Inquirer will be converted into a tri-weekly, beginning Saturday, November the 8th. It will appear on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. We wish it success.

The Ohioan Inquirer and Independent of last week speak in very complimentary terms of the speech delivered by Mr. H. B. Kinsolving before the Cleveland and Hendricks Club in that city, on Tuesday night of that week.

The Supreme Court of Ohio has decided the Scott Liquor Law unconstitutional. Judges Ely Follett and Owsley, the three Democratic members making the decision, and Judges Johnson and McIlvane, the two Republicans dissenting.

COL. STODDARD JOHNSON, president of the Kentucky Press Association, has arranged for an excursion to the City of Mexico for the Kentucky editors on November 17th, going via Abilean and El Paso, and returning via New Orleans at the opening of the World's Exposition. The excursion will start provided forty editors consent to go and pay up $60 each to defray the expenses of the trip.

AT BOWLING GREEN, Gabriella Smith, a colored girl, was stricken with paralysis Sunday morning and fell while walking along the street. She was rallied, but is yet in a precarious condition. Gus Douglas, a popular colored barber, had a stroke of apoplexy Sunday night at 10 o'clock, and was a corpse within hours. Bill Briggs, a colored man, dropped dead upon the street last week.

THE Nigress, American says: Dr. Christopher Graham, the centenarian of Louisville, attended the fair at Bowling Green, yesterday, and is an object of great interest. He has just passed his one hundredth birthday anniversary, and talks sensibly and well. He was the companion of George Washington, and the Nigress, Mrs. Hanks, President Lincoln's mother, and he and she were turned out at the Methodist church for said dinner, but were afterward reinstated. He is still a Methodist and a Democrat. He fought through the wars—that of 1812, Jackson's Indian wars, and the Mexican.

WE have received the American Newspaper Annual for 1884, published at Philadelphia by W. W. Ayer & Son. From a sketch of the work we find it very complete, containing a list of all newspapers and periodicals in the United States and in foreign countries. It gives the name of the paper, the date of publication, size, circulation, and advertising rates for ten lines one month. In fact it is a completed directory or gazetteer of the newspaper world.

MASTER COMMISSIONER'S NOTICES TO CREDITORS.

OHIO CIRCUIT COURT.
John Chapman's Adm'r.

John Chapman's Heirs.

All persons having claims against the estate of John Chapman, deceased, are hereby notified to produce said property, proven, to the undersigned Master Commissioner of said court, on or before the 25th day of November, 1884, or they will be forever barred.

October 1st, 1884.

O. S. Price, Adm'r.

John P. Barrett,
Master Commissioner.

SHIRK'S SALE FOR TAXES.

By virtue of taxes due me as Sheriff of Ohio county, for the year 1884, I will

on the 24th day of November, 1884, it being the first day of Circuit Court, offer for sale the following tracts of land to-wit:

HARTFORD DISTRICT.

Bailey, R. S., agent for Bonton 120 acres $19.45.

Berry, S. L. 1 town lot $8.70.

Ferguson, John, 141 acres $9.70.

O'Brien, David, 1 town lot $2.50.

ROCKPORT DISTRICT.

Herrell, Spenser, 1883 1 town lot $1.50.

ROCKPORT AND BARREN RIVER NAVIGATION CO. 4 acres $1.50.

SON RESIDENT LIST.

Arnold, Wm. C. 200 acres $6.85.

Arnold, W. R. 1 town lot $2.25.

Brown, John W. 32 acres $1.60.

Brown, W. 120 acres $9.95.

Bratton, Enoch, 200 acres $4.30.

John E. 170 acres $2.75.

Jones, H. 200 acres $1.50.

Jones, H. 200 acres $1.50.

McCracken, David, 272 acres $7.95.

McCracken, David, 272 acres $7.95

SANDWICHES.

A woman does not love her lover's courage, truth, or honor; she loves her lover.

Don't shake with chills or burn with fever. Wilder's Chil Tonic is the sure cure.

When an individual displays a great deal of outside religion, it is safe to infer that he has a very small stock of within.

Turn to pieces with a cough? Wilder's Chil Tonic will mend you up in a jiffy.

If the world knew the real motives that prompt what are considered best actions, we should often be ashamed of them.

"Fine birds make fine feathers," and Wilder's Saraparilla and Potash make the blood purify and healthy.

Stomach is the punishment of every hour; grapple it and you may win, but without a grapple it will never stay with you.

Does death end all? Well, not but Wilder's Stomach Bitters ends all Indigestion Consumption and Billows.

The shanader should be regarded as the most poisonous of wild beasts, and the bather the most dangerous of tame ones.

A young man's male letter by a sister's love and favor and Ague are cured by Wild's Chil Tonic also more and more and more disorders.

If you enter opinions which you dare not risk, against it or opposite, it is good evidence that they are un-sound.

Profession is a very cruel and deadly demon that generally involves and fetters the followers in debt and dependence.

Sound and sufficient reason fail to the lot of few, and to those few who generally exert their influence in silence.

To speak for truth we must investigate ourselves, and refuse to let our minds be swayed by preconceived creeds.

When we become rational we can be our own priest, doctor, lawyer and soldier so far as these professions may be needed.

The true cause of many divorces is the fact that most men who divorce a wife as a child do a soft-no matter if the head is filled with water.

Silver Dupre, Mass., is 8 years old, four feet three inches in height, weighs 120 pounds. For the past year has grown one pound a week in weight.

The Messrs. Webster Brothers, 26 Lombard street, London, E. C., England, the India, China and Colonial agents of gentleman's hardware and underwear, are agents for the great benefit from the use of St. Jacobs Oil, more especially for the cure of rheumatism and sciatica, and we have the pleasure of adding our testimony in its favor.

No Norwegian girl is permitted to have a beau until she has bread, and the consequence is she is an adept in the culinary art long before she has learned the art of singing, painting bright floral objects, plaques, and sporting bras by hammer.

Prickly Ash Bitters is an unfeeling specific for all complaints arising from a derangement of the functions of the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, and intestines; life into the invalid, loss of appetite, headache, bilious attacks, &c., &c. are sure indications that a corrective is required.

Prickly Ash Bitters is especially adapted for these complaints. It is a safe, healthy, and safe action and restores it to a healthy condition.

The poet of the Rockwood Success affects and absolute paradox with the following:

(1) A man, a boy, a child, a young man, a young woman, a young girl, to whom the world with the trifling, on clover her palest dial regale. An humble boy did gall his fair over. As the boy with the smiling pallid milkling the cow with the bridle-tail.

(2) The boy sat down, on the cow a left ear, heels drew up through the leaves of a chestnut tree, the boy said intently.

Are You Tired of Being Sick?

We want to say a word to the men, women and girls who work in stores, offices, and houses. There are hundreds of thousands of you in the country. Very few of you are well. You are shut up too much and exercise too little. In this way you get sick. Your blood is too thick, your heart too weak. Your liver, stomach and kidneys are out of order. Parker's Tonic has cured hundreds of such cases. It is pure, safe and pleasant.

AN ARAB WIDOW.

An Arab widow who has a chance to marry again visits the first husband's grave the night before the second marriage takes place, where she kneels and prays for his soul. She then goes to take another husband. But, as a guarantee against any failure of her prayers to appear the deceased, she takes along with her a donkey laden with water and dates to the grave, the dead man dood under the most tragic circumstances.

FROM NATURE'S WELLS.

The skin on the head is kept soft and flexible by a secretion from the oil glands. When these are clogged the hair becomes dry and brittle. Hair Balsam removes their mucus, restores the original color to the hair, makes it soft and glossy. It also eradicates dandruff. Not greasy, a dry, delicate and perfect hair. It is a jewel of a cosmetic. The best of dressings. Preferable to all similar articles because of its superior cleanliness and purity.

454

Frank Hatton.

Newly Appointed Postmaster-General.

Frank Hatton, from October 22, 1881, to October 14, 1884, First Assistant Postmaster-General, was on the second of these dates, given the command of what prompted him to be the head of the Post Office Department. This made a Cabinet minister, and his salary raised from four thousand dollars a year to double that amount.

With Mr. Hatton took the mail, of which he was in charge, and he was the first person to handle with the newsworthy mail.

If you enter opinions which you dare not risk, against it or opposite, it is good evidence that they are un-sound.

Profession is a very cruel and deadly demon that generally involves and fetters the followers in debt and dependence.

Sound and sufficient reason fail to the lot of few, and to those few who generally exert their influence in silence.

To speak for truth we must investigate ourselves, and refuse to let our minds be swayed by preconceived creeds.

When we become rational we can be our own priest, doctor, lawyer and soldier so far as these professions may be needed.

The true cause of many divorces is the fact that most men who divorce a wife as a child do a soft-no matter if the head is filled with water.

Silver Dupre, Mass., is 8 years old, four feet three inches in height, weighs 120 pounds. For the past year has grown one pound a week in weight.

The Messrs. Webster Brothers, 26 Lombard street, London, E. C., England, the India, China and Colonial agents of gentleman's hardware and underwear, are agents for the great benefit from the use of St. Jacobs Oil, more especially for the cure of rheumatism and sciatica, and we have the pleasure of adding our testimony in its favor.

No Norwegian girl is permitted to have a beau until she has bread, and the consequence is she is an adept in the culinary art long before she has learned the art of singing, painting bright floral objects, plaques, and sporting bras by hammer.

Prickly Ash Bitters is an unfeeling specific for all complaints arising from a derangement of the functions of the heart, lungs, kidneys, liver, and intestines; life into the invalid, loss of appetite, headache, bilious attacks, &c., &c. are sure indications that a corrective is required.

Prickly Ash Bitters is especially adapted for these complaints. It is a safe, healthy, and safe action and restores it to a healthy condition.

The poet of the Rockwood Success affects and absolute paradox with the following:

(1) A man, a boy, a child, a young man, a young woman, a young girl, to whom the world with the trifling, on clover her palest dial regale. An humble boy did gall his fair over. As the boy with the smiling pallid milkling the cow with the bridle-tail.

(2) The boy sat down, on the cow a left ear, heels drew up through the leaves of a chestnut tree, the boy said intently.

Are You Tired of Being Sick?

We want to say a word to the men, women and girls who work in stores, offices, and houses. There are hundreds of thousands of you in the country. Very few of you are well. You are shut up too much and exercise too little. In this way you get sick. Your blood is too thick, your heart too weak. Your liver, stomach and kidneys are out of order. Parker's Tonic has cured hundreds of such cases. It is pure, safe and pleasant.

454

What Farmers Are, and What They Might Be.

They are the most numerous of the productive class.

They cast votes enough every four years to elect the President, and a majority of congress and the State legislatures.

They are the most ignorant but one-fourth the nation's population.

They furnished three-fourths of the soldiers, and bear three-fourths of the nation's tax burdens.

They produce nine-tenths of the wealth which annually flows into the coffers of the rich corporations and millionaire.

They are poor and hard up, from the fact that they are the most extravagant national, State and local governments, and deprecitated prices of their products, as a result of exorbitant transportation charges and enormous waste of time and money.

They are blind patients, idlers who furnish the jester and the team which rolls it over their bodies every four years.

They might, if united, be the controlling power in the land.

They might repel every unjust assault, and would be equal to them justice, equity and protection.

They might pass laws to protect the government from the all the money it need on land security, at the same rate of cost as the rest of the world.

They might establish a transportation system, test would be operated on the same system.

They might make the land and money system, which is failing the land with a rich, and many poor by providing means for labor to do cash in the capital cities.

They might establish the post and money system, which is failing the land with a rich, and many poor by providing means for labor to do cash in the capital cities.

They might be the best friends with those who are robbing and oppressing them, and make their farms as good as government bonds, by making the base of the currency of the country.

Chicago Sentinel.

The Male and the Boy.

A boy, apparently, very much aged, was seated in a house recently, and was talking to the baby.

"Don't want to alarm you, but I've got big news. I am sent out from this tiny stable to tell you."

"What news? What have I done?"

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Oh, that's all right, boy, I'll tickle your head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.

"All the better, never lifted a hoof," called the boy. "Never as much as switched his tail. It's a mighty good thing for Alice that he didn't do it; and thought I'd come up tell 'em."

"He said he wanted to see what a male would do when you tickled his head with a straw."

"Well, sir, yes sir, a boy got a straw stuck up 'tween a stable mate, tickled him, and he hollered."

The boy opened the door.